The City of Medina is currently in the process of identifying what, if any, constraints and unintended consequences the development code has allowed. This review seeks to ascertain methods of reducing negative impacts of new development while encouraging creative architecture. Your feedback is an important component of this conversation, which will continue to be refined over the next many months. Specific questions may be addressed to Stephanie Keyser, AICP, Planning Manager at skeyser@medina-wa.gov. Thank you for participating.
